Kendlebell remove the stress of handling out-of-hours calls

Many companies require their calls to be answered on a 24/7 basis. Often, a very important call can be made to a company outside of normal office hours which requires immediate attention. The Kendlebell 24/7 service can provide such companies with a solution. The typical situations we encounter are:

- Emergency call outs – after hours
- Alarm security response
- Companies providing their customers with 24/7 support
- Event booking / Registration after hours
- Software support 24/7
- Customer complaints line 24/7
- Customer appointments booking line
- Call overflow from multi-nationals in different time zones
- Direct / Media response lines
- Consumer helpdesk
- Consumer order line

We provide trained staff who are available 24/7 and are briefed to take certain courses of action on receipt of an out-of-hours call. Response times are immediate and our operators are trained to bring each call to a satisfactory conclusion.

Letting Kendlebell manage your out-of-hours calls comes at a fraction of the cost of running your own office and with a lot less hassle.
