Telephone Answering & Virtual Office Services

Who answers the telephone when...

- ▲ You're already on a call?
- ▲ The office is unattended?
- ▲ You don't want to be disturbed?
- ▲ All your lines are busy?
- ▲ You're all in a meeting?
- ▲ You're temporarily short of staff?
- ▲ Everyone's gone home?
- ▲ You're working from home and the children are screaming in the background?
- ▲ You're expecting an important call and don't want to appear small by answering yourself?

some control?

Our Unique Approach

Kendlebell offer an efficient, cost-effective solution that can differentiate a business from its competitors. When you are not available to take that call or your staff have called in sick or are on holidays, Kendlebell can represent your business as if they worked for you directly.

It's no accident that Kendlebell are different to any of their competitors!

Kendlebell understands how vital it is for your customers to feel they've spoken to a real part of your organisation and have interacted with someone who cares! That's why every Kendlebell client has their very own nominated Personal Assistants, who will learn about you and your business and speak with your customers each time they call.
